

PREFACE

International Conference on Life Science and Technology (ICoLiST) 2023

The 6th International Conference on Life Sciences and Technology (ICoLiST) will be held in Malang, East Java Indonesia on August 24-25, 2023. This Conference is jointly organized by the Faculty of Mathematics and Natural Sciences State University of Malang and Indonesian Physiological Society as the member of International Union of Physiological Sciences (IUPS) and Federation of the Asian and Oceanian Physiological Societies (FAOPS). Also, the 6th ICoLiST will be co-organized by Indonesian Biology Society, Indonesian Biology Consortium, and University Consortium (co-host). The aim of the conference is to provide a platform to the researchers, experts, and practitioners from academia, governments, NGOs, research institutes, and industries to meet and share cutting-edge progress in the fields of life sciences and technology. It provides an opportunity to enhance understanding of the relationships between knowledge and research related to life sciences and technology.

This hybrid conference is organized by the Department of Biology, Faculty of Mathematics and Natural Sciences, Universitas Negeri Malang, Indonesia, and sponsored by Gene Craft Labs and Gamma Scientific Biolab. We are also supported by co-organizers from many national and international universities.

Over 159 participants, from students, lecturers, and researchers on life science, registered online or offline. Hopefully, ICoLiST 2023 will enhance our insight and contribute to addressing global life science challenges. Therefore, we proudly present this annual conference under the theme “Natural Resources Exploration, Conservation, and Technology Research Towards SDGs”

Ultimately, we would like to express our gratitude to all the keynote speakers, invited speakers, reviewers, participants, delegates and all committee members for the commitment to contributing and support this great event.
